

An Offering

29 November 2005

I'm following my heart and sharing the pdf of my book, "I Don't Want to be Your Guru, But I Have Something to Say," with you.

I ask just a few things:

1. If you decide to email it to others, please include this entire message as part of the email message content.
2. If you decide to order the paperback for yourself or another, or if you want to either read reviews or post one yourself, please do so at www.lulu.com/content/127175. The book is for sale through Amazon (check the "used" book offering for the best price), Barnes & Noble, and Borders online services. You can also ask your local bookstore to order it for you. If you'd like to post reviews at these sites, that would be terrific.
3. Be or become a quantum thinker and help to create conscious individuals. Share the message of the book. If you belong to a book discussion group, perhaps use the book for one or more sessions. Let's all do what we can to lift the energy and consciousness on the planet. Every bit counts.

Many blessings,
